1. Executive Summary

AURA is an eco-conscious hydration brand built around a distinctive foldable water bottle. This proposal sets out a complete brand and launch package: identity, a four-part social media campaign, product communication, a one-page portfolio website, and the outreach material needed to take AURA to market.

The deliverables are already designed and ready for your review. This document presents the concept, the mock-ups, the schedule for finalisation and launch, and the costing.

2. Brand Pitch

Brand idea: More than just a bottle: a convenient companion for everyday hydration.

Mission: To encourage convenient, reusable hydration through thoughtful product design and a modern lifestyle experience.

Personality: Modern, refreshing, practical, adventurous, and environmentally conscious.

Target audience: Students, gym-goers, office workers, travellers, hikers, and anyone who prefers a reusable bottle with a distinctive design.

Why it works:

- A memorable name and a droplet, leaf, and mountain logo that signals nature and hydration at a glance.
- A premium navy and icy-blue palette that stands apart from the typical green "eco" look.
- A clear, product-led story: the foldable design is full-size when needed and compact on the move.
- A simple offer structure that drives action: a single bottle at PKR 2,500 with 5 free electrolyte tablets, and a double set at PKR 5,000 with 10 free tablets and a free carrying pod.
